...are delighted to invite you & yours to our first ever weekend away!

Set in the beautiful Welsh countryside, Tyn y Nant is an amazing place, ten minutes walk from the beautiful beach at Aberrech, near Pwllheli, and it is all ours for the weekend of 30th September!

We will be staying in their newly built units, containing bunk beds in a mix of family rooms and single sex dormitories, and can take around eighty or so people– preferences will be taken into account at booking. The whole site will be ours for the weekend, including a large dining area, recreation room with pool and table tennis tables, a football field and other outdoor areas, and even a 'camptheatre' for camp fires!

Activities will be planned nearer the time, but will be tailor made to the people who come– if climbing Snowdon is your thing, or just wandering the shops in Porthmadog, there will be time to make it happen. And of course, there will be music... lots of music!!

The total cost is uncertain at the moment, as I am in the process of bidding for grant money to subsidise it. However, even if I am unsuccessful in doing this, the maximum cost for the whole weekend, including two nights accommodation and all food, will be fifty pounds for an adult, and thirty pounds for a child (under sixteen) You can of course pay in instalments from now, but if this still feels a bit out of reach, do come and talk to me, as there are other options available too. All that is required at the moment though is a (non refundable) deposit of ten pounds per adult, five per child. I will let you know the balance to pay as soon as I know about the grant.

Places (and sleeping accommodation) will be allocated on a first-come-first-served basis, so get your booking in quick!! And If you have any questions at all, please do not hesitate to ask!
